Company Recruitment Team

August 26, 2020

Dear Hiring Manager,

About Me, Myself & I

A Software engineering Master student with a lot of mixed skills figuring out where to imply and work with my knowledge collected over the years through both professional and natural means. I feel proud to call myself a global student open to all opportunities like a new baby born into this industrial & organizational world. Leadership, interaction and good time management are my strong traits which I intend to test at every stage in my life by challenging myself with innovative tasks. I have evolved from being a beginner developer to a project leader with a good team player spirit along my projects. This thrives me to be part of an esteemed team in a company like yours has always been my dream. Currently I am working at ASEA BrownBoveri (ABB) Company, as a part of my Master's Degree in Software Engineering at Blekinge Tekniska Högskola, Karlskrona. My responsibilities include designing a Software Architecture and developing the software demonstrator which aims to increase the reliability in object detection using Millimeter wave Radar technology. Upon exploring in linkedin I have come across this opening in your company. Hope you had a good read about me.

Why Your Company?

Over the past year, since my arrival in Sweden I have been following and exploring your reputed company which is known to be a pioneer at what it does. My connections tell me that your company welcomes everyone with their respective individual talent and treat with utmost respect and dignity. It is my hobby to follow your company activities and future interests through online sources. Nothing at work comes easy, every one of us has to work towards the goal collectively which is my belief and one of your company motives. Adding to it is the work environment and encouragement provided at your company which I think is in both of our best interests. The commitment, zealous and positive attitude towards any employee tell me that your company will expose new abilities and talent that help us learn new things during the journey.

Why Choose Me?

My professional achievements and qualifications are best described in the resume attached to this letter. But, what it fails to convey is my greater goal, current aspirations and of course my personality. My great goal is to become a high-ranked professional in the field of Software Engineering and Computer Science with some own contribution to the society. Interest towards learning new technologies has made me adapt and expertise in the programming languages like Python, Java, Matlab and supporting subjects like Machine Learning, R programming, Cloud Computing and embedded software technologies. Not a very charming personality but I am confident and take responsibilities which include accepting mistakes and moulding resonating outcomes, few lessons that I picked up during my academic and personal experiences. My study experience has made me patient, focused and tackle heavy work pressure with team effort, leadership and effective time schedules. On a positive note I am Passionate, Trustworthy, Efficient, Determined, Resourceful, Self Motivated with the spirit of a team player and a Can-Do it attitude to match the company requirements. I have always reached to the maximum in all my tasks and assignments which I am sure will carry it your company as well. With that said, I won't take up more time and hope to talk to you soon if the opportunity is presented.

Sincerely,

Narra Vivek Reddy
